Projects

URL Phishing Detection Model – Python, Pandas, NumPy, Scikit-learn, Matplotlib, Seaborn, Catboost	Oct 2025
- Engineered a machine learning-driven phishing URL detection system using a dataset containing 245,000+ URL records, leveraging lexical and domain-based feature analysis to accurately classify malicious and legitimate websites. - Designed and optimized a complete ML pipeline involving data preprocessing, feature engineering, and model evaluation, achieving up to 96.2% classification accuracy for real-time phishing threat detection.
Toxicity-Prediction – Python, PyTorch, PyTorch Geometric, RDKit, NumPy, Matplotlib	Feb 2026
- Developed a multi-task molecular toxicity prediction system using Graph Attention Networks (GATs) and the NIH Tox21 dataset (8,000 chemical compounds, 12 toxicity endpoints), enabling efficient toxicity screening for computational toxicology and drug discovery applications. - Implemented SMILES-to-graph conversion, multi-head attention mechanisms, and PyTorch Geometric-based graph neural networks with advanced evaluation and interpretability techniques, including ROC-AUC analysis, attention visualization, and molecular feature importance mapping.
StatXI – React.js, Tailwind CSS, JavaScript, Vite	Apr 2026
- Developed StatXI, a scalable football analytics platform visualizing performance metrics for 17,000+ football players and 700+ clubs through interactive dashboards, advanced filtering, and real-time search capabilities. - Architected optimized data processing workflows and responsive analytical interfaces, enabling efficient exploration of large-scale sports datasets with fast rendering and enhanced cross-device user experience.
